FATAL FALL.

Edward L. Smith, of Norfolk, died at Emergency Hospital in Washington yesterday afternoon as the result of injuries sustained when he fell into an areaway in front of the residence of Preston C. Phillips, at 922 I street northwest.

Smith was found in a dying condition in the vestibule of Mr. Phillips' home about 6:30 yesterday morning. The right side of his face had been cut and bruised, and his symptoms indicated he had sustained a fracture of the skull. It was at first thought he had met with foul play, but after making an investigation, the police were of the opinion that he received the injuries when he fell. Smith had been able to ascend the steps from the areaway to the front door, where he fell upon the vestibule floor.

Smith went to Washington last week. He was a newspaper man and went to seek a position.

Smith had been married about seven years. He had two children.

He had worked in the newspaper business in almost every large city in the south, having left the Index-Appeal of Petersburg, to go to Washington. He formerly worked in both Richmond and Danville.

THE ZIONISTS.

The announcement is made in Jewish circles and through the Jewish press of this country that important communications from the leaders of the international Zionist movement will be made known at the eleventh annual convention of the Federation of American Zionists, which will open at Atlantic City on Friday, July 10, and will continue until Wednesday, July 15.

The announcement will be made of the proposed organization of a new colony in Palestine for the benefit of the homeless in Israel by 100 American Jews. This colony will be founded by the Achusath Nachla Association, which has recently been organized in New York for that purpose. The plan is to purchase about 1,000 acres of land in Palestine, and of developing this tract as an orange-growing colony along the lines of many of the other Jewish settlements in Palestine.

A further announcement of great interest to Zionists is made in connection with the approaching visit to New York of one of the foremost leaders of the movement in Europe—Prof. Alexander Marmorek, the noted bacteriologist of the Pasteur Institute of Paris, a great Zionist, as well as an eminent leader of his people. Professor Matmorek will come to this country to attend the International Congress of Tuberculosis, which will take place in the fall at Washington.

CATHOLIC EDUCATIONAL ASSOCIATION.

A brief cablegram from Pope Pius X., which bestowed on the Catholic Educational Association, in annual convention in Cincinnaiti, the "most affectionate blessing of the pope," was read in the convention at their closing business session yesterday.

In closing the association passed a resolution, saying that they "deplored the decay of home life in many parts of this country," and resolved to "make an earnest effort to bring home to the parents emphatically the true idea of parental dignity and sacred nature of parental responsibility."

The college department passed a resolution in favor of a uniform system of Latin pronunciation in the Catholic colleges of America and also resolved unanimously to "keep an eye on legislation that might be detrimental to the interests of a Catholic education."

The college department also passed a resolution warning Catholic colleges against the acceptance of such money gifts from wealthy men as carried with their acceptance any obligations to change or disregard the Catholic faith in any way.

WILL BE LURED TO DEATH

Condemned to death, a score of Mexican revolutionists who have been tried at Casas Grandes, Mexico, will be lured to death by the false hope that they will be permitted to escape and will be shot down by federal troops, is the report which has been received at El Paso, Texas. The time for execution is early tomorrow morning, when, it is said, that the alleged revolutionists will be taken from the four prisons and marched toward the train which, it is said they will never reach. This plan of execution has been practised before in Mexico, it is declared, when there has been little chance of a legal execution.

The Sierra Madre and Pacific line is guarded, as is the road from the prisons to the station, and another company of soldiers, which has arrived in Juarez, will be sent to Casas Grandes in the morning. It is to reinforce the companies now stationed there and prevent friends of the revolutionists, among whom is Silvester Quebado, a graduate from a St Louis college, from effecting their rescue along the line of march.

Kodol will without doubt help anyone who has stomach disorders or stomach troubles. Take Kodol today and continue it for the short time that is necessary to give you complete relief. Kodol is sold by W. F. Creighton & Co.

Effort has been made to keep the time of transportation and execution a secret, but it has leaked out, and there is much agitation along the border.

FRIDAY EVENING, JULY 10, 1908.

WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN is for the third time during the past twelve years the democratic candidate for President of the United States. It has during the past twelve months been apparent to all that he would be, and the action of the national convention today is but the affirmation of the endorsement of Mr. Bryan by a large majority of the democrats of the country expressed in mass meetings and conventions long before the gathering of the people's representatives in Denver. It is now the bounden duty of every member of the party to make the nomination unanimous and support the candidate, who is the recognized bearer of the banner of democracy. There have been objections in certain quarters to the selection of Mr. Bryan, and objections have been urged by some against every man who has aspired to the presidency since the close of the revolutionary war. Washington did not have the unanimous support of our forefathers, nor did Andrew Jackson and others who have since posed in the position now occupied by Mr. Bryan. The fact that the latter can corral more democratic votes than any other man in the party cannot be gainsaid nor resisted, and this should be the end of all controversy. He is, therefore, the logical candidate of the party. The history of Mr. Bryan is fresh in the minds of all, and there is no need of reproducing it at this time. During the past decade and a half he has been one of the most prominent men in this country, and in his recent trip around the world the manner in which he was received by representative people of all nations, including crowned heads, made it apparent that his fame had preceded him and that his reputation is universal. He is a democrat ex animo, no matter what theories he may have entertained in by-gone years which the country, so far, has failed to test. The entire south and thousands in other sections of the land have sighed long for the relegation of the republican regime to the bats and owls. This can be done in one way only—at the ballot box. This great desideratum can be brought about if the party will stand in solid phalanx and affirm the action of the Denver convention. We prefer to believe it will do so.

THE nomination of Mr. Bryan for president by the democratic national convention at Denver was a foregone conclusion and the nomination was the hearty desire of the large majority of the delegates to that convention openly, voluntarily and enthusiastically expressed. Mr. Bryan may or may not be the strongest man the democratic party could have put up, but certainly a large majority of that party earnestly believes he is and as the majority must rule is a cardinal point in the democratic doctrine all true democrats should acquiesce in the action of their representatives in convention assembled and give him their hearty support at the polls. Mr. Bryan is an honest and able statesman and can well and ably fill the presidential chair.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT denies the statement that he had told Captain Hobson that the United States would be at war with Japan within a year. It is hoped that Capt. Hobson will get off his big navy hobby and get on another—or, better still, that he keep quiet.

REPORTS come of vast coal deposits of excellent quality in the Philippiner, but it will not hurt the coal barons of this country for they will see that the tariff on coal is not removed even from the Philippines—a "possession."

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT has closed arrangements with Charles Scribner's Sons for the publication by that firm of his African hunting articles. The president has still an eye to business.

COUNT TONI appealing to the courts as a champion of the domestic virtues rises far above the common ruck of humanity and towers in proportions majestic and sublime.

WHILE this immediate section is suffering for rain yet all the country forty miles from this city, in any direction, is constantly being refreshed by copious showers.

THE presidential contest this year is to be between heavy weights.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, July 10.

Three reparation complaints of more than usual interest were filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission today. The Navy Department, through Admiral Pillsbury, filed a claim against the Pennsylvania, New York, New Haven and Hartford, and other railroads asking for $21.79 and $167.54, overcharges on two shipments of explosives, one from Newport to Carney's Point, N. J., including wet guncotton, and the other from Norfolk to Annapolis, embracing car ridges and sailing powder. The Cambria Steel Co., with headquarters at Philadelphia, and plant at Johnstown, Pa., attacks the legality of a rule in force by the Car Service Association providing that when both cars and tracks are owned by the same party no charge is to be made for switching or demurrage, but when private cars are detained on tracks of other corporations or on tracks operated by parties of this association, a charge shall be made. The Cambria Company paid the B. & O. $174 under this rule, and it seeks to have this amount refunded, and the rule suspended, alleging it forms a discrimination and is unwarranted.

Announcement is made here that the democratic congressional committee will maintain headquarters in this city, as well as in Chicago. The republican congressional committee is planning to remove its headquarters from Washington to New York in a few days. Representative Lloyd, chairman of the democratic committee, will go to Chicago shortly to take charge of the big fight in the west and Representative Clark, of Florida, secretary to the committee, will be charge in Washington.

Not wishing to disturb the rest of the Washington people the District democrats decided to postpone the salute in honor of Mr. Bryan's nomination until six o'clock this morning, when the salute was fired from the monument grounds.

Representative Burton, of Ohio, has come out for Foraker's seat in Ohio. This means a disruption of the republican party in that state.

The armored cruiser Montana will be delivered to the government by her builders today at the navy yard, Norfolk, Va., according to the arrangement with the bureau of navigation. The commandant of the yard has been ordered to place the vessel in commission as soon as practicable. This latest vessel to be added to the rapidly growing Atlantic fleet will be commanded by Capt. A. R. Reynolds.

Manufacturers Anxious.

London, July 10.—The enormous sum of $150,000,000 has been transferred from the pockets of American and German manufacturers to English manufacturers within the last six months by the operation of the new English patent law, according to figures made public here today.

The law provides that if a foreigner is granted a patent in Great Britain the goods must be manufactured on British soil. The operation of the law has worked to England's industrial advantage in a far greater degree than imagined by its framers.

On August 28 any one applying to the controller of patents may cause to be revoked any patent granted longer than four years ago in Great Britain to any foreigner who manufactures the goods covered by the patent "exclusively or mainly" outside the United Kingdom.

Foreign manufacturers are growing apprehensive as this time limit approaches. They foresee the certainty of millions of dollars of trade vanishing out of their hands unless they erect manufactories and workshops in England.

The Lusitania's Quick Trip.

New York, July 10.—With every record of the sea smashed, the great Cunarder Lusitania reached New York today, anchoring off quarantine at 5:38 o'clock. She left Liverpool July 4 and Queenstown July 5, after having been overhauled and shipping four new propellers.

Four records in all were captured. Her time of passage was four days, nineteen hours and thirty-six minutes, thirty-one minutes faster than the Mauretania. The Lusitania's best day's run was made July 7 when she logged 643 knots, two knots better than had ever been done before. Her average speed per hour was 25.01 being .13 better than the record. Her voyage record is that of having broken her own record for three voyages in succession. The Lusitania is now the only 25-knot boat on the seas.

Another Trail.

Philadelphia, July 10.—Detectives investigating the murder of "Dr." W. H. Wilson, postponed by cyanide of potassium in a bottle of "sample" ale were started on a new trail today when at the coroner's inquest the alleged malpractitioner's wife declared he had paid hush money to an unknown man. Verging on collapse the woman with difficulty told her story. She said that several days prior to his death Wilson had paid $25 to this man on condition that he would annoy him no more. The trend of the district attorney's questioning showed that this extortioner is suspected to have been an intimate friend or a relative of the Wilson's, but this the woman would not say.

The coroner's jury brought in a verdict that Wilson died of cyanide of potassium poison administered by a person or persons unknown to the jury.

Serenaders Shot.

Allentown, Pa., July 9.—With the exclamation, "I'll teach them a lesson," Amandes Miller, of Dainielsville, last evening fired two shots into a crowd of young merrymakers who had gathered about his home to serenade him and his bride of a fortnight, injuring five young man, two of them seriously. The rest of the party, including a number of young women, escaped, although the shot was fired at short range and the young men and women were closely grouped.

The young men shot are Steward Gable, 27 years old, Cherryville; left arm blown to pieces, shot believed to have penetrated his heart; will die. Charles Fasterday, 25 years old; shot removed from back of body from heel to head, bones peppered with shot; slightly injured. Walter Winans, the American shot, who yesterday tied with Rankin, the Englishman, in the double shot running deer event, shot off the tie and won, capturing a gold medal.

Winans also won second place in the single-shot running deer event in the Olympic marksmanship contest, and with it a siver medal.

In the 300 meter event, Simon, an American, kept up the good record of his country by winning first honors, scoring 886. He won over a large list of competitors.

New York Stock Market.

New York, July 10.—The result of the convention at Denver had a bullish influence on the market and was reflected in generally high prices all around the room during the early part of the first hour. The greater part of the buying was by the larger room traders. The market in all respects was similar to those of the preceding days of the week.

The reaction that started toward the end of the first hour continued all through the rest of the forenoon and at midday prices were generally one to two points below the highest range reached shortly after the opening. The volume of transaction on the reaction was comparatively small.

It is expected the affairs of the First Cooperative Building Association, of Georgetown, will go into the hands of a receiver today, on application of the board of directors. The directors decided to make such an application after they had found that all the association's books and records, including the bank-books, were missing from the safe in the office of J. Barton Miller, the secretary-treasurer. Mr. Miller is reported seriously ill at his home and unable to make any explanation.

Thomas E. Watson was formally notified of his nomination for president by the populists of the United States at a mass meeting held at Atlanta, Ga., last night. Judge J. W. Forrest, of Albany, N. Y., headed the notification committee. Mr. Watson replied to his speech of notification in a long and picturesque address, and a reception closed the proceedings. He called the tariff a robbery, also demanded the restoration of greenbacks. He scored possessors of great wealth and went back for similes to ancient history.

After lying for nearly 24 hours in the rear of a little hair-dressing shop in New Orleans the body of Alphonse Durel was found late yesterday afternoon in a badly mutilated condition. Nearby lay a bloody hatchet, evidently the weapon used by the murderer. Investigation showed that Durel's shop apparently had been robbed, and the police began a search for a negro woman cook who works in the neighborhood, but who has disappeared. Durel was for many years the proprietor of a fashionable hair-dressing establishment in the old French quarter.

Borrowing a shotgun from his brother-in-law, Clements Nichols, who had just returned from a hunting trip, William H. Saylor, thirty-five years old, of near Garrett, Md., went to an outbuilding yesterday and shot himself in the chin, but inflicted only a slight wound. Covering the wound with a handkerchief, he went to his home, where he told his sister that while firing the gun, it kicked, striking him on the chin. Going to his room, he secured a razor, went to an outbuilding, and slashed his throat three times, severing the windpipe. He was dead when found. He had long been worried over ill-health.

A small but furious riot occurred at Nanticoke, near Wilkesbarre, Pa., Wednesday night, when a number of men and boys, who had paid to see a side-show performance of a much-advertised "lady" dancer, discovered that the dancer was a man attired in pink fleshings stuffed with straw to imitate feminine curves. Indignant at the deception, they swarmed on the stage, stripped the man to the skin and beat him, while the employes, after cutting the tent ropes and letting the canvas fall on the rioters, cracked the heads as they appeared under the canvas. There was a spirited fight for sometime, in which employes, the dancer and the spectators were badly bruised.

DENIAL FROM THE PRESIDENT.

President and Mrs. Roosevelt got into a rowboat at Cold Spring Harbor yesterday morning and went off on a picnic by themselves, and did not return until nearly 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

As soon as the president returned, he and Secretary Loeb were closeted for more than an hour, after which Secretary Loeb gave out the following statement concerning the speech of Congressman Hobson in Denver Wednesday, in which he said that he had heard the president say within the last three weeks that a war with Japan was imminent:

"In reference to the speech of Congressman Hobson, Secretary Loeb stated that the Congressman must have been misquoted. The president not only never made such a remark, but never made any remark even remotely resembling it. All that the president ever said is that if there was a sufficient navy, there would never be any possibility of this country getting into a foreign war."

Mr. Bryan Nominated.

The democratic national convention reassembled at 7 o'clock last night and after a long wait for the resolutions committee to report decided to go ahead with the nominating speeches, which resulted in the nomination of William Jennings Bryan to be for the third time the standard-bearer of his party in the coming national campaign.

Oratory and stirring music was employed during the early part of the evening, but the constant postponement by the committee of a time for refusing finally led to a decision to begin the nominating speeches and then wait with the balloting until after the resolutions committee had reported.

Rumors of another delay in receiving the report of the platform committee filled the air as the delegates assembled.

At 7:30 o'clock it was whispered through the hall that the committee on resolutions had finished its work and would in a short time be prepared to present its report. It was just 7:50 o'clock when Chairman Clayton began to rap for order. Mr. Clayton recognized Mr. McQuisten, of Pennsylvania, who announced the selection of James Kerr as member of the national committee from that state in place of James M. Guffey, who was selected before the Pennsylvania contests were settled.

"Without objection the selection of Mr. Kerr will be considered as ratified," said the chairman, and a moment later added:

"The chair hears none, and the selection of Mr. Kerr is ratified."

Ollie James, of Kentucky, moved that a committee be appointed again to wait on the platform committee and ascertain when it would be ready. The motion prevailed, and a committee was appointed.

Pending the report of the committee of inquiry, Thomas P. Ball, of Texas, was invited to address the convention.

Mr. Ball called out cheering when he said it was a great pleasure to address such a notable "ratification convention" and declared Mr. Bryan would be nominated because the people of the state who sent their delegates to the convention wanted him nominated.

When Mr. Ball had concluded Chairman Clayton said: "In November next we will witness in New York the Tammany tiger drowning the republican elephant. Therefore, I invite to the stand for a speech from a democrat to a democratic convention Senator Thomas F. Grady, of New York."

Senator Grady was given a most enthusiastic welcome. When he declared that the convention could nominate no candidate and adopt no platform that would not receive the united and enthusiastic support of the New York democracy, he was given still greater applause.

Following Senator Grady, Chairman Clayton introduced Judge N. J. Wade, of Iowa, "a representative of the great corn state."

Mr. Champ Clark was then introduced and predicted that the democrats would sweep the country from sea to sea, that on March 4 next a democratic president would be inaugurated backed by a democratic house and the people would then come into their rights. Mr. Clark concluded with a tribute to Mr. Bryan as "the greatest living American."

When quiet was restored the chair recognized Representative James, of Kentucky, of the committee sent to ascertain the probability of an early report from the committee on resolutions. Mr. James reported that the committee would not be ready to report before midnight. He then made a motion that the rules be suspended and that the nominating speeches for presidential candidate be made, that no ballot should be taken until after the report of the committee had been received.

The motion was adopted, and the rules were declared by the chair to be suspended and nominations to be in order.

"The secretary will now proceed to call the roll of States for nominations for the office of president of the United States," shouted Chairman Clayton.

"Alabama," called the clerk.

The chairman of that delegation arose, and was recognized.

"Knowing that Nebraska will make no mistake in nominating the right man," he said, "Alabama yields to Nebraska."

"I. J. Dunn, of Omaha, will speak for the Nebraskan delegation," announced the chairman of that State, while the cheering which followed the first statement from Alabama continued unabated.

As Mr. Dunn announced Mr. William Jennings Bryan as Nebraska's choice a wild burst of enthusiasm broke forth. Everyone was on his feet. The portrait of Bryan was lowered from its place over the speaker's head and raised above the audience. Dahlman, of Omaha, stood on top of the table and led the band.

A banner was shown on the platform bearing the words "Missouri will give Bryan 50,000 majority."

All of the state standards were carried to the platform except those of Minnesota, New York, Georgia, Delaware and New Jersey.

Numerous flashlight pictures of the convention added to the confusion.

The state standards then started on a parade around the hall led by the banner of the club from St. Joseph, Mo.

The enthusiasm was even greater than that displayed on Wednesday. The cheering was so great that the band could not be heard across the hall.

A huge banner, on which there was a picture of Bryan, was borne by two men around the hall. The band was next in the procession. The entire audience was on its feet waving small U. S. flags.

At the end of the first half hour the demonstration continued as vigorously as when it began. The delegates marched around the hall singing campaign songs. Then a banner was raised over the speaker's stand which set forth "Missouri will go 50,000 majority for Bryan. The crowd went wild over it.

Finally the crowd broke into song and, led by the band, sang "We Wont Go Home Until Morning."

A transmitter equipped with a megaphone in the hall was connected with the line of a telephone company leading directly to the the home of Mr. Bryan that cheering and commotion might be heard by him.

After the cheering had lasted for one hour the officers of the convention began a determined effort to quite the crowd. They tried to clear the platform and the press stand of people and ordered the delegates to their seats.

In naming the candidate Mr. Dunn said:

"He must be a man known to be free from the influences that control the republican party; a man of superior intellect, sound judgment, positive convictions and moral courage—one who will meet the forces of plutocracy with the naked sword of truth.

"He must have a genius for statecraft; he must be a man of wide experience in public affairs; he must have ability to formulate policies and courage to defend them.

"But, above all, he must have faith in the people. He must not only believe in the right of the people to govern, but in their capacity to do so.

"And, above all, he must be a man whom the people know and trust."

Mr. Dunn declared Bryan the one leader above all others. We have a crisis to meet, he said, and the question is whether the government shall be returned to the people. He declared that Bryan can do this. The nominee, he said, must be a man who trusts the people and whom the people trust. He described the Nebraskan as the free choice of the militant democracy.

At 10:20 p. m., when the demonstration had lasted an hour and twelve minutes, Chairman Clayton directed the secretary to continue calling the roll of states. Arkansas passed and California yielded to Oregon. Ex-Senator Gearin, of that state, then was introduced to second the nomination of Mr. Bryan.

Other speeches seconding Bryan's nomination were made by Governor Glenn, of North Carolina, Gov. Swanson of Virginia and others. In his speech Gov. Swanson said: "There is not a reform needed in our country of which he has not been the foremost and most eloquent champion. There is not an issue to be presented in the campaign with which he is not strikingly identified.

"He was the pioneer in the many reforms of recent years which have become almost the adopted policies of both great political parties. The best portion of the Roosevelt policies are gleanings gathered from his teachings. The people prefer as president and ruler the teacher rather than the doubtful heir of one of his pupils."

Representative W. S. Hammond, of Minnesota, placed the name of Gov. J. A. Johnson, of that state in nomination and made a most favorable impression. Gov. Johnson's name was cheered for 25 minutes.

While the Johnson cheers were dying and the chairman was struggling with the obstreperous galleries, L. Irving Handy, of Delaware, was waiting on the rostrum to name as presidential candidate George Gray, of his state which he did in a forcful speech.

When Mr. Handy had spoken for a few minutes, he was interrupted by the appearance of the committee on resolutions. Mr. Handy proceeded with his speech.

Some cheering was heard when Mr. Handy had concluded, but there was no attempt at a Gray demonstration.

"Gentlemen of the convention," said the chairman, "I now have the pleasure of presenting to you the chairman of the committee on resolutions, Gov. Haskell, of Oklahoma."

The governor called forth loud cheers from the convention when he announced that there was no division among the members of the committee, and that he represented them all in presenting the report. He then read the platform.

The reading of the platform was concluded at 12:56, Gov. Haskell having read for a few minutes less than one hour.

"Mr. Chairman, I move the adoption of the report," said Gov. Haskell.

Chairman Clayton put the motion. The chorus of affirmative votes was unanimous.

A resolution that the 100th anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln be appropriately observed throughout the country was passed.

I. L. Straus, of Maryland, declared that he desired to move a reconsideration of the vote.

A storm of hoots was directed at Straus, and Mr. Lamb moved that the motion of Mr. Straus be laid on the table. The motion was carried unanimously.

Mr. Straus declared that his idea in asking the reconsideration was to add the name of Gen. Robert E. Lee. He explained this to the chairman.

Augustus Thomas, of Missouri, made a seconding speech in behalf of Mr. Bryan.

One of the Georgia delegates, when that State was called in turn, declared that the the minority of that delegation, thirteen in number, indorsed Bryan.

Other seconding speeches were made by Elza Williams, of Illinois; State Senator Looney, of Texas; Representative Ollie James, of Kentucky; J. B. Sullivan, of Iowa; Samuel F. Gilmore, of Louisiana; Gov. Powers, of Utah, and Mr. Bryant, of Michigan.

The convention experienced another period of uproar before the balloting began.

James A. Reed, of Kansas, made a Bryan seconding speech, in spite of many interruptions.

When New York was called, C. F. Murphy announced that his State offered no candidate.

Representative Heflin, of Alabama; John J. Lenz, of Ohio; Senator Gore, of Oklahoma, seconded Bryan.

New Jersey announced a second to Gray's nomination.

Balloting was then begun.

When New York was reached on the ballot Chairman Murphy, of that delegation, announced its 78 votes for Bryan, amid cheering.

J. J. O'Connor, of the New York delegation, at once demanded a poll. O'Connor and one other voted for Johnson, but under the unit rule the 78 votes had to be counted for Bryan.

Virginia gave her 24 votes to Bryan.

At 3:15 o'clock this morning William Jenning Bryan was nominated as the democratic candidate for President of the United States. He received 892½ votes on the first ballot, against 46 for Gov. Johnson of Minnesota and 59½ for Judge Gray of Delaware.

There was great cheering when New York announced 78 votes for Bryan.

When Bryan's overwhelming vote was announced, Hammond, of Missouri, moved to make the nomination unanimous, which was carried with a shout.

Judge Gray received 6 votes from Delaware, 20 from Georgia, 24 from New Jersey and 9½ from Pennsylvania. Gov. Johnson received 5 from Connecticut, 2 from Georgia, 1 from Maine, 9 from Maryland, 22 from Minnesota, 1 from New Hampshire, 3 from Pennsylvania and 3 from Rhode Island. Eight delegates were absent—1 from Maine, 6 from Pennsylvania and 1 from Vermont. Mr. Bryan received all the other votes cast, 892½. Of the 1,006 votes in the convention 671 were necessary for a choice.

The convention then adjourned until 1 p. m. when the vice presidential nominee will be named.

Strange to say, it was the vote of Pennsylvania, the home of Bryan's arch enemy, Guffey, as the roll-call progressed, that first gave the Nebraskan the required two-thirds, 671 votes.

The session closed amid scenes of wildest rejoicing by the tired-out delegates.

The convention was called to order at 1.41 this evening—41 minutes after the appointed time. At 2 o'clock (4 o'clock eastern time) no business had been transacted and the names of the vice presidential candidates had not been put in nomination.

Congressman Clayton, of Alabama, permanent chairman of the convention, began his speech yesterday by predicting that this was a democratic year because democratic ideas were popular. During his speech he said: The President has advertised himself with an ability that surpasses the best efforts of the shrewdest press agent. The meaningless generalities of the injunction plank are an insult to the intelligence of those who demand reasonable legislation. Immunity from law we promise nobody; immunity from oppression the democratic party has decided to establish and secure. The democrats will revise the tariff downward and in the interest of the taxpayers. It is the shortest of steps from the tariff to the trusts. Mr. Taft will have to receive about seven millions of votes before he can execute any policy.

At his farm at Fairview, Lincoln, Neb., last night, Mr. Bryan said: "I am very much pleased with the platform. It is clear, specific and strong, and I am grateful to the committee for the work that they have done in stating the issues. I am sure that the platform will greatly strengthen us in the fight upon which we are entering."

Promise of New York's support of nominee and platform, whatever might be the outcome, by Martin W. Littleton, with a plea for harmony and a "closer union of Yankee Doodle and Dixie, of Maine and California," caught the fancy of the audience and provoked a shriek of approval and a vociferous but not prolonged demonstration.

Receiving the News of his Nomination.

Lincoln, July 10,—William J. Bryan received telegraphic tidings of his nomination on the first ballot for president of the United States by the Denver democratic national convention at Fairview shortly after daybreak.

It was an odd and memorable vigil. Shortly before midnight, the candidate, now thrice the nominee of his party for president, joined a party of newspaper correspondents on the porch of his country home. Not until 4:34 o'clock did the telegraph instrument tick off the story of Bryan's nomination. Bryan was pounced upon with congratulations. He sent for a great silver loving cup, filled with unfermented grape juice, was importuned to take the first drink himself, which he did, and then he passed the cup to the correspondents. Before midnight Bryan remained with members of his family and close personal friends in his basement study. The telephone was put into operation shortly before 10 o'clock whereby the candidate could hear the cheering in the convention hall. At the Denver end of a wire was a megaphone an Sergeant-at-Arms Martin's desk.

The cheering, as the result of the nominating speech of I. J. Dunn, of Omaha, affected Bryan deeply. It could be distinctly heard in the Fairview home. Miss Grace Bryan stood at the telephone receiver for almost an hour. The entire party joined the waiting correspondent of the great veranda at midnight, Bryan taking his place in a great reclining chair. He looked very tired. He was in a happy mood, however, and regaled the newspaper men with a score of stories.

His comments on the planks of the platform as they were adopted, as indicated by the ticker, were sometimes full of boyish glee. He clapped his hands and between times he whistled. "Boys," he said, addressing the correspondents, "I want you to form a whistling club for tonight and when the nomination is announced to whistle, 'La Paloma.'"

As the ticker began to tell of the adoption of the successive planks of the platform Bryan kept up a running fire of comment.

Bryan was very happy. He sat for minutes tapping the arms of his chair and whistling smilingly. When finally the operator announced that the platform was unanimously adopted Bryan applauded loudly, everybody joining. It was 2 o'clock.

"Bryan is nominated," came the long-awaited announcement at last. The party, after its long memorable vigil broke up quickly, Bryan snatching a few hours sleep before the demonstration of Lincoln citizens and state officials at 9 o'clock, when a huge crowd went out to Fairview from Lincoln to extend congratulations to the candidate.

Mr. Bryan Pleased with Platform.

Fairview, Lincoln, Neb., July 10.—"I am very much pleased with the platform. It is clear, specific and strong, and I am grateful to the convention for the work it has done in stating the issues. I am sure that the platform will greatly strengthen us in the fight upon which we are entering." The above statement was made by Bryan upon reading the platform adopted by the democratic convention this morning.

Immediately after Mr. Bryan received positive assurance of his nomination, he gave out this statement:

"The presidency is the highest official position in the world and no one occupying it can afford to have his views upon public questions biased by personal ambition. Recognizing his responsibility and his obligations to his countrymen, he should enter upon the discharge of his duties with singleness of purpose. Believing that one can best do this when he is not planning for a second term, I announce now, as I have on former occasions, that if elected, I shall not be a candidate for re-election. This is a nomination as purely from the people as can be, and if elected my obligations will be as purely to the people. I appreciate the honor the more because it came not from one person or a few persons, but from the rank and file, acting freely and without compulsion."

Believe Bryan's Chances have Improved.

London, July 10.—Editorial comments today on the nomination of William J. Bryan agreed that his chances for victory over William H. Taft are slender, but better than in either of his previous campaigns or that of Alton B. Parker four years ago. The result of the convention was too per-arranged to be interesting, and most of the comment on it are confined to the new columns of the London papers.

Vice Presidential Situation.

Denver, July 10.—Feeling the necessity of voting within a few hours for a running mate for Bryan, the democratic hosts have now no more idea of whom they will name for their vice presidential candidate than they had before the convention began. The leaders, those in close touch with Bryan himself, may know the name that is to be added to the ticket, but if they do they are keeping it closely to themselves.

The probabilities are that every favorite son who had received a complimentary mention in connection with this nomination will be balloted for.

Of the numerous candidates one will finally be chosen who is satisfactory to Bryan and at the same time acceptable to New York. The Empire State delegation could nominate its man at the start if it so desired, but Murphy assumes a sphinx-like attitude when the subject is mentioned to him and is disposed to let Bryan make the vice presidential candidate as he did the platform.

Towne, of New York; Ollie James, of Kentucky; Folk, of Missouri; Burton Harrison, of New York; McNeil, of Connecticut; Mitchell, of Illinois, and Francis, of Missouri, each has a following. Among this list it is believed is the chosen one.

The elder democratic statesmen from the south are advising against the selection of a southerner for the same old reason—that the southern states will go democratic anyway and that the candidate should come from a contested section. Despite the attitude on their part, Congressman Ollie James is a great favorite among the delegates and he increased his popularity and his chances for the nomination by his remarkably effective speech early this morning sounding Bryan's nomination.

Conferences on the subject were in progress during the morning. One in particular which it was thought might have important results was held in the rooms of Charles Bryan, brother of the presidential nominee.

Among those who participated besides Bryan were Lewis Nixon, of New York, and Ollie James. The latter announced that his name would not go before the convention. Tom Taggart was busy pushing the candidacy of Kern, of Indiana. Mayor Dahlman, of Omaha, said that the Nebraska vote would be split among several candidates.

Congratulations from Judge Gray.

Wilmington, Del., July 10.—"Accept my hearthy congratulations," was a telegram filed here today by Judge George Gray to William J. Bryan, his successful rival for democratic presidential nomination.

Will Vote For Taft.

Oyster Bay, July 10.—President Roosevelt received a letter today from a former democratic United States senator in which the latter informs him that he intends to vote for Taft at the coming election. The senator also says that he has written a letter to Chairman Taggart of the democratic national committee offering to bet him $10,000 to $5,000 that Bryan will lose the election, and $10,000 to $5,000 that Bryan will not carry New York state.

Thus far, the president's correspondents writes, Mr. Taggart has not replied to the challenge.

President Roosevelt also received today a handsome invitation to attend the Alaska-Yukon Exposition at Seattle next year. It is a three sided white leather lantern, the sides of which contain many transparencies showing Alaskan views. With the heavy fringe that falls from the bottom, the lantern is fully five feet long.

United States Judge Reid, of Alaska, brought the invitation to Oyster Bay. But as the president will be hunting lions in a country considerably warmed than is to be found in the state of Washington when the exposition is held, he will be obliged to send his regrets.

Jersey City, N. J., July 10.—Eugene W. Leake, the young democratic representative from the Ninth congressional district, of New Jersey, announced this afternoon that he "couldn't stand for Bryan, and will not only vote for Taft, but will offer his services as a Taft orator." Leake, who is a lawyer, is serving his first term in Congress.

Will Publish Contributions.

Hot Springs, Va., July 10.—Anticipating the democrats on their own plank, George R. Sheldon, republican national treasurer, declared himself for publicity of campaign contributions when he arrived here today with Lieutenant Governor Franklin Murphy, of New Jersey, to confer with Taft and Hitchcock.

Sheldon personally does not agree with the publicity plan. "But," said he, "we will keep a complete record of all donors and receivers of moneys and the list published in accordance with the New York law. All moneys will be sent to me at New York, and there will be no shipping contributions to Chicago to dodge publicity, though this could be very easily done. Publicity, however, will prove unfortunate, as in case of one man contributing $5,000 all other committees will flock after him."

Hitchcock will leave tonight for Washington where he will select the men who as an executive committee will aid him in conducting the campaign.

Suicide of Capt. Broatch.

Manila, July 10.—Friends of Captain James W. Broatch, who committee suicide at Cavite yesterday by shooting, were unable today to assign any cause for the act. Captain Jolly, whom Broatch called to his quarters just before firing the fatal shot, said Broatch had been in the best of spirits and had never intimated that he was tired of life. Arrangements were begun today for sending the body to the United States. Broatch had a doctor's degree from Yale and was a scholar of unusual brilliancy. He was a native of North Dakota and was appointed to the marine corps in 1899.

How Wall Street Sees It.

New York, July 10.—"Stocks are booming today because Wall street believes that Bryan's nomination is equivalent to Bryan's defeat," said a stock exchange expert today. "This boom, though it is in part the result of manipulation of issues to impress the public in Taft's favor, is expected to be but the signal of a general revival of business.

Democratic adherents here look at the bull market in a different light. "All a scheme by Wall street to help Taft," they say. "The market has been deliberately rigged to aid in electing the man who Wall street wants and it will continue to be rigged, so far as is possible, until the fight is over." These democrats assert that there is no legitimate reason for the sudden jump in values.

THE DOG CART.

The dog cart did not go on its round yesterday, but made a nocturnal crusade. It was believed that some thoughtless curs might be netted while barking at the moon or engaged in holding "conventions" in certain quarters of the city. The canines, however, seemed to have been given a tip last night, as they made themselves scarce, and the men in charge of the wagon reported water hauls this morning.

Dick Pines, colored, who wields the net, had a colored woman cited to appear before the Police Court this morning to show cause why she should not be fined for interfering with him in the official discharge of his duties. Pines stated to the court that he cast the net at an unlicensed dog and the woman pulled it from the animal, and used uncomplimentary language toward him. The defendant denied the charges, and averred that Pines attempted to invade her premises when the dog ran from him. The incident occurred Wednesday, and at that time no license had been issued for the animal. Later the license was procured. Justice Caton in deciding the case said he would impose no fine, but would state that in future should any person interfere with those in charge of the dog cart while they were engaged in capturing stray animals they would be fined.

VIRGINIA PRESS ASSOCIATION.

The members of the Virginia Press Association and their friends arrived at Washington from Newport News yesterday afternoon on the steamer Commodore Maury, flagship of the Virginia oyster navy, where the annual meeting of the association was held the early part of the week. During the stay of the Virginia editors in Washington the entire convention committee of the Chamber of Commerce will act as an entertainment committee for the visitors. The party went down the river last night on the steamer Jamestown. The editors today made a trip to Great Falls, where they were the guests of the Alexandria County Board of Trade. This evening there will be a reception at the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce in Washington, immediately after which the visitors will start on the return trip to Newport News.

ALEXANDRIA IRON CO. SUED.

As trustee for Ostermann & Butler, real estate brokers, of Washington, who were declared bankrupt October 9, 1906, Hayden Johnson, their trustee, yesterday filed suit against the Alexandria Iron Company and J. R. N. Curtin, asking that a certain contract sale be declared void. The petitioner claims the brokers were indebted to the iron company, and they transferred certain property in payment. Since the transfer was made within four months of the time they were declared bankrupt, and that Ostermann & Butler were insolvent at the time, the complainant contends the iron company made the brokers preferred creditors, and upon this plea he asks that the conveyance be set aside.

CRABS IN THE UPPER RIVER.

As has heretofore been stated in the Gazette, crabs can occasionally be seen in Hunting creek and in the river at this place. A few days ago four were caught in the dock at the foot of Duke street and seven were hauled from the cove in front of Battery Rodgers recently. It is said by people who pass much of their time upon the river that the crustaceans can often be seen gliding through the grass on the flats. During prolonged droughts in by-gone years crabs have been seen at Jone's Point, on rare occassions but at no time have they been so numerous as during the present summer.

THE A. L. I.

A largely attended meeting of the Alexandria Light Infantry was held last night at Armory Hall. During the evening Capt. F. L. Slaymaker issued to the men of his company Springfield rifles, such as are used by the regular army. Dr. Thos. B. Cochran has been appointed battalion quartermaster of the Alexandria Light Infantry, with the rank of second lieutenant on the staff of Major James E. King. A. Herbert, jr., has been promoted to first sergeant succeeding Dr. Cochran, and Chas. D. Barrett promoted to sergeant succeeding A. Herbert, jr. MEDAL QUESTION SETTLED.

A controversy having arisen as to the award made at the closing exercises last month by the principal of Lee school of the superintendent's medal, Superintendent Kemper today asked Capt. Bryant, chairman of the school board, to sit with him while the matter was inquired into. The principal of the school, the young lady to whom the medal was originally awarded and the one who claimed that she should have received the medal were present. After hearing statements from all concerned the superintendent confirmed the decision of the principal and in this decision the chairman of the school board concurred.

Alexandria Council, Jr. O. U. A., last evening at its meeting received notice that the funeral benefit association had paid the death claim of L. M. Chaffee, late a member of the council, who died in Washington on June 23rd. A draft for the amount of the benefit will be paid to Mrs. Chaffee this week. The claim was paid on the same day that the proofs of death were received by the association.

The interment was made in the National cemetery at Antietam, where rest the remains of but one other woman. Mrs. Davis was 63 years old

BREAK WITH VENEZUELA.

The diplomatic relations between the United States and Venezuela that have existed uninterruptedly for more than half a century though in recent years severely strained, were yesterday completely severed. At 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon Senor Veloz-Goiticos, the Venezuelan charge d'affaires, called at the State Department by appointment to present to acting Secretary Bacon notice from his government that he was to quit his post here and close up the Venezuelan Legation in Washington. He will leave forthwith for Venezuela.

The charge executed his commission punctiliously. In five minutes talk he explained to the acting secretary that the action of the State Department in withdrawing Mr. Jacob Sleeper, the American charge, from Caracas and in closing up its legation there, made it necessary for his government to take similar action in the case of its own legation in Washington. Therefore he was leaving the capital at the earliest moment that he could arrange his domestic affairs to do so, which will be today, and will proceed directly to New York, there to take passage for Venezuela on Saturday.

BOND ISSUE.

Bonds to the amount of $1,000,000—1,000 at $1,000 each—are to be issued by the Great Falls and Old Dominion Railroad Company. A mortagage on the property to cover the issue was filed yesterday in the office of the recorder of deeds in Washington by Wilton J. Lambert, attorney for the company. The bonds are to mature June 1, 1933, and bear 5 per cent interest. The mortgage, which covers 36 pages, is made to the American Security and Trust Company as trustee. Under the terms of the mortgage the proceeds from the sale of bonds may be used to secure acquisitions to the railroad property and the buying of other roads. It is set forth that the road at present has been constructed entirely from the sale of stock, and has represented an actual cost of about $1,000,000, this being the first bond issue.

STRAY DOGS.

To the Editor of the Alexandria Gazette:

Will you permit a stranger within your gates to say a few words in adverse criticism of your town?

If you will, I beg to call attention to the multitude of apparently stray dogs that roam about your streets. These dogs are a menace to every person that is compelled to pass them, because of the possible bites that they may inflict; and they are a nuisance, even prescinding from the potential harm. Fate, or fortune, or providence has taken me into many places under Mohammedan rule where the life of the biped is less considered than the life of the quadruped but, barring what I have seen in those Mohammedan places, I have never seen so many stray dogs as I have seen in this hospitable—and I use the adjective emphatically—town. FRIDAY EVENING, JULY 10, 1908

An Exasperating Mamma.
The small boy's mother was the only one who sat unmoved, while the small boy himself—most unwelcome addition to the informal afternoon tea—gleefully galloped around the circular table, daintily spread with silver and china and towered over by a cut glass lamp.
"I's a squircus pony!" shrilled the infant joyously as he tossed his flaxen locks and twinkled his besocked legs with ever increasing speed.
"Mercy! He'll have the lamp over!" shivered a nervous young woman as the human gyroscope stumbled over the edge of a rug, clawed at the table for support, then triumphantly continued circling. Conversation froze on pallid lips as they sat awaiting the inevitable crash. Only the voice of the small boy's mother rippled along serenely.
The nervous young woman could stand it no longer. In sheer despair she ventured, "Mrs. Archibald—er—pardon me—your dear little boy"—
The lady addressed stared blankly, then grasped the situation. "Malcolm," she said sweetly—"Malcolm, dear, run around in the opposite direction, darling. Miss Vinton's afraid you'll make yourself giddy."—Woman's Home Companion.

Making It Simple.
In the course of his sermon a preacher in a rural district used the world phenomenon. This word caused one of the members some trouble, for he was unable to attach any meaning to it. Finally he determined to seek an explanation from the minister and at the close of the service approached him on the subject.
"What did yer mean by that there long word yer used in yer sermon?" he began.
"Oh, I see you do not know what a phenomenon is," replied the minister. "Well, have you ever seen a cow grazing in a field in which thistles were growing?"
"Yes; many a time."
"That is not a phenomenon. And no doubt you have often listened to a lark singing merrily away up in the clouds."
"Yes."
"That, again, is not a phenomenon. But if you saw that cow sitting on a thistle singing like a lark that would be a phenomenon."—Liverpool Mercury.

Kadiak Island's Queer Climate.
Of the abnormal climate of Kadiak Island, Alaska, a writer says: "In spite of its situation in such high latitudes we find here what may well be described as 'the parting of the ways' between the arctic and more temperate regions. For, thanks to the moderating influence of the Japanese current which flows along its southern coasts, Kadiak is favored with climatic conditions such as are unknown even in places a few miles north or east of it on the mainland of Alaska. So pronounced is the demarcation line that even on the island itself a traveler in summer will suddenly emerge from amid forests and vegetation of almost tropical luxuriance into a barren, desolate land of silence, where lofty snow capped mountains tower aloft, brooding, as it were, over the past terrors of an arctic winter, which will soon descend once more, enveloping them in its icy grip."

The English Channel.
One of the most famous bits of water in the world is the English channel, which separates and yet unites the sister countries of England and France and has been the scene of so much of their history. It extends on the English side from Land's End to Dover and on the French side from the island of Usbant to Calais. Its entrance from the German ocean is the strait of Dover, twenty-one miles wide, while at the other extremity, where it joins the Atlantic, it is 100 miles from shore to shore. The greatest width midway is 150 miles. Owing to the strong current setting in from the westward, the high winds which frequently prevail and the configuration of the shores it has a roughness which has become proverbial and few cross it without seasickness.
